

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

About Google Book Search

Google's mission is to organize the world's information and to make it universally accessible and useful. Google Book Search helps readers discover the world's books while helping authors and publishers reach new audiences. ## PREFACE.

IN passing from a known to an unknown language, we should use the shortest, easiest, and most direct route. This will be accomplished by first selecting the points in the unknown language which are similar to those in the known.

The noun, the name, being the first and simplest part of speech, and differing very little in its general uses in the different languages, is that which one would naturally select as the first to present to a learner; its declensions and simpler uses are readily understood by beginners. In connection with these, other declined forms can be introduced as they resemble the nouns, the adjectives with noun of the same declension, and afterward pronouns.

The verb being the hill of difficulty in all languages should be attempted last, and should be presented to the pupil not as mere work to memorize, but as a simple and beautiful system, which the mind seizes with satisfaction when presented in its logical relations.

This is the plan which has been followed in these FIRST LATIN LESSONS; nevertheless the exercises consist from the beginning of complete sentences, as the verb is introduced at first in its simplest form in the third person singular and plural.

The constructions and rules are presented under the same plan, carrying the learner along so gradually and so naturally that he scarcely knows when he steps from an old idea to a new.

The exercises consist, with very few exceptions, of sentences taken from Cæsar's Commentaries, thus a vocabulary of classical Latin is formed in the very beginning.

The exercises in English to be translated into Latin correspond with each Latin exercise, so that the English exercises are in fact review lessons.

The notes are arranged for the use of both teacher and pupil; the teacher should examine carefully the explanations of a lesson in the notes, previous to assigning it to the class; the pupil should consult the notes constantly, as all explanations necessary to a thorough understanding of the lesson are there given.

References are made for all the paradigms and rules to four grammars,—Andrews and Stoddard's, Allen and Grenough's, Harkness's (latest edition) and Bartholomew's. There is given, however, for the help of the teacher in harmonizing the class in the memorizing of rules, where several grammars are used in the same class, a list of twenty rules, which the pupils may learn as the constructions are presented in the lessons. See page 71.

The programmes for parsing, on page 74, should be used in whole or in part from the first. The outline of the verb (page 79) does not correspond in full with the presentation by any grammar, but, after using this analysis, the class can readily pass to the philological discussion as given by the latest grammars; this analysis is preferred as being very much more easy and simple, and one which more quickly than any other makes the pupil perfectly at home in the verb.

There are four vocabularies, two special and two general; the special, Latin-English and English-Latin, contain the verbs of the third person singular and plural used in the lessons previous to the formal introduction of the verb; the general, Latin-English and English-Latin, contain all the words used in the entire book with their derivation and parts.

1. Ad hæc quæ<sup>1</sup> visum est Cæsar respondit; sed exitus fuit orationis: Sibi nullam cum his amicitiam esse posse<sup>2</sup>, si in Gallia remanerent<sup>3</sup>; neque verum esse, qui suos fines tueri non potuerint<sup>4</sup>, alienos occupare<sup>5</sup>; neque ullos in Gallia vacare agros, qui dari tantæ præsertim multitudini sine injuria possint; sed licere, si velint, in Ubiorum finibus considerare, quorum sint legati apud se et de Suevorum injuriis querantur et a se auxilium petant: hoc se Ubiis imperaturum.

Gallia est omnis divisa in partes tres; quarum unam incolunt Belgæ, aliam Aquitani<sup>1</sup>, tertiam, qui<sup>2</sup> ipsorum lingua Celtæ, nostra Galli appellantur. Hi omnes lingua, institutis, legibus inter se differunt. Gallos ab Aquitanis Garumna flumen, a Belgis Matrona et Sequana dividit. Horum omnium fortissimi sunt Belgæ, propterea quod a cultu atque humanitate provinciæ longissime absunt, minimeque ad eos mercatores sæpe commeant, atque ea, quæ ad effeminandos<sup>3</sup> animos pertinent, important; proximique sunt Germanis, qui trans Rhenum incolunt, quibuscum continenter bellum ger-

unt. Qua<sup>4</sup> de causa Helvetii quoque reliquos Gallos virtute<sup>5</sup> præcedunt, quod fere quotidianis præliis<sup>6</sup> cum Germanis contendunt, cum aut suis finibus<sup>7</sup> eos prohibent, aut ipsi in eorum finibus bellum gerunt. Eorum una pars, quam<sup>8</sup> Gallos obtinere dictum est, initium capit a flumine Rhodano; continetur Garumna flumine, Oceano, finibus Belgarum; attingit etiam, ab<sup>9</sup> Sequanis et Helvetiis flumen Rhenum; vergit ad septentriones. Belgæ ab extremis Galliæ finibus oriuntur<sup>10</sup>; pertinent ad inferiorem partem fluminis Rheni, spectant in septentriones et orientem solem. Aquitania a Garumna flumine ad Pyrenæos montes et eam partem Oceani, quæ est ad Hispaniam, pertinet; spectat inter occasum solis et septentriones.

Pro<sup>13</sup> multitudine autem hominum, et pro gloria belli atque fortitudinis, angustos se fines habere arbitrabantur, qui in longitudinem milia passuum<sup>15</sup> ducenta et quadraginta, in latitudinem centum et octoginta patebant<sup>16</sup>.
